Gensuite Attending 2017 Environmental Leader Conference

Gensuite experts Meghan Foley and Chris Pansing will share Gensuite's cloud-based compliance and management systems software solutions during the 2017 Environmental Leader Conference in Denver, Colorado from June 5-7.

Over the last two decades, Gensuite has helped global organizations across a diverse array of industry segments realize continuous improvement and excellence in their risk and compliance management programs. Gensuite's software applications extend beyond functions in EHS & Sustainability to serve Quality, Responsible Sourcing, Product Stewardship and Security, offering a holistic solution for compliance and management system needs. Each Gensuite application is developed to match the requirements expressed by everyday program processes—including cutting-edge mobile capabilities, multilingual interfaces, flexible configuration features, integrated analytics and an innovative Software as a Service model.

In 2017, Gensuite continues its commitment to continuous evolution by exploring new drivers for human and operational engagement. Gensuite is currently partnering with a number of organizations to deliver corporate-level and practical shop floor value, including developments in Virtual Assistants, Augmented Reality, Beacons, and Wearable Technology.

During the Environmental Leader conference, Chris and Meghan will demo Gensuite's platform, and will share best practices and insights into Gensuite's latest projects involving emerging technologies, such as Artificial Intelligence and Virtual & Augmented Reality. Join them at booth #306 and enter for a chance to win an Amazon Dot!
